

RESOURCES FOR SBHC ADVOCACY

STATE GOVERNMENT CONTACT INFORMATION

Links for Contacting State Legislatures

- National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) State Liaisons
Staff at NCSL with connections to state legislators in all 50 states, Washington, D.C., Puerto Rico, and U.S. Territories

Links and Contact Information for State Governors' Offices

- National Governors Association
This website provides links to each state's governor's website and contact information for his or her office

Links and Contact Information for State Medicaid Directors

- National Association of Medicaid Directors
This website provides links to each state's Medicaid program and the name and office phone number of every state Medicaid director

Links for State Health Agencies

- Environmental Protection Agency – Health and Environmental Agencies of U.S. States and Territories
This website contains links to each state and territory's health and environmental agency

Links for State Associations of County and City Health Officials

- Listing of State Associations of County and City Health Officials by state
This website has information with links to contact state representatives of county and city health officials

RESOURCES FOR ADVOCACY

Information for SBHC Advocacy

- The Children's Health and Education Mapping Tool
This mapping tool allows users to examine the health status of children 18 and under at the county level, public school characteristics, and the locations of SBHCs
- APHA's Center for School, Health and Education (CSHE)
This portion of the CSHE website contains information on the links between health and academic success and how schools can promote health

Advocacy Toolkit

- UNICEF Advocacy Toolkit
This guide offers in-depth information on setting advocacy goals and developing and implementing advocacy strategies. Though it is not designed specifically for SBHCs, it is general enough to be adapted for an SBHC audience.